

Learning Styles and Autism Spectrum Disorders

January 21st Prospect Primary School Auditorium
9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

This workshop is designed for parents and professionals interested in increasing their knowledge of how individuals on the autism spectrum learn.

Come find out about:

- + Challenges that autism brings to learning and why these challenges exist
- + Learning styles that typically accompany autism and how to utilize learning strengths and challenges
- + Implications for teaching individuals on the autism spectrum

Become more successful in your interactions with individuals on the autism spectrum by developing a clearer understanding of the disorder and implementing practical strategies based on individual learning styles.
